

INDEPENDENT ADVISORY GROUP
REVIEW OF THE CENTRAL BANKING ACT 2000

MEDIA RELEASE

15 September 2021

SUBMISSION DEADLINE PUSHED BACK BY ONE WEEK TO FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 24

An Independent Advisory Group (IAG) has been appointed by the Treasurer to review the Central Banking Act 2000.

The Independent Advisory Group welcomes submissions from all interested parties, whether organisations or individuals. The deadline for submissions has now been pushed back by a week, to Friday 24 September.

Submissions can respond to the first or second phase of the Review, and should respond to the terms of reference articulated in the Issues Paper. Submissions will be uploaded to the IAG website, unless the submitting body indicates the the submission is confidential. The Issues Paper can be found on the IAG website, <https://pngcentralbankactiag.org/>.

Submissions should be sent to pngcbaiag@gmail.com.

IAG Chair, Mr Robert Igara said “We have pushed the submission date back to ensure that all stakeholders get the opportunity to contribute to this very important endeavour.”

“Submissions from interested parties and members of the public will be invaluable to the work of the Review. I encourage all who are interested to read the Issues Paper and come forward with a submission.”
